Poetry.

Grace.

Blue are her eyes, as tho' the skies
Were ever blue above them;
And dark their full-fringed canopies
As though the night fays wove them.

Two roses kiss to mould her mouth;
Her ear's a lilly blossom;
Her blush as sunrise in the South;
Like drifted snow her bosom.

Her voice is gay, but soft and low,
The sweetest of all trebles—
A silver brook that in its flow
Climbs over pearly pebbles.

A happy heart, a temper bright,
Her radient smile expresses:
And like a wealth of golden light
Rain down her sunny tresses.

Life's desert clime, whose sands are Time
Would prove a long oasis,
If 'twere your fate, my friend, to mate
With such a girl as Grace is.

Miscellaneous.

Charge of Judge Brooks.

DELIVERED TO THE GRAND JURY AT THE OPENING OF THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT AT ELIZABETH CITY N. C., OCT. 17TH, 1871.

Mr. Foreman and Gentlemen of the Grand Jury:

If we look into the history of the past and especially of every nation on which the influence of our christian religion has been shed, it will be seen that the great object and purpose of the framers of the criminal law has ever been the thorough and effectual suppression of crime.

It is not true that vengence is demanded by the criminal laws of any enlightened and christian country for any violation of the law, even for the most inhumane act or entire disregard of its provisions. "Vengence is mine saith the Lord—I will repay it," and it is seen that the good and great men who have acted prominently in the establishment of our criminal code have at all times acknowledged vengence to be a power of Deity and not safe to be exercised by frail and erring man. What subject then could more properly engage the attention of good and great men in any age or of any country than that of devising and perfecting the most humane, and yet the most effectual system for the prevention of crime?

If the wicked should be allowed to take life wherever his bloodthirsty passions might be aroused and he find himself physically able to redress his wrongs, whether real or imaginary, I ask what security would there be for life even in our highly favored country? If the rapicious cromorant, such as we sometimes find in human form, should be allowed to acquire the property of his weaker neighbor to such extent as his physical strength or the weakness of others would enable him, unrestrained by wholesome and efficent laws, I ask you gentlemen, what protection would we enjoy in regard to our property, even at this age and in this country?

If men of extraordinary ambition and presumption were not restrained by the wholesome provisions of our constitution and laws, I ask of what value would the boasted liberty even of an American citizen be? I repeat, it is not vengence that our laws demand, but it punishes those who are unmindful of its provisions to the end that it may be respected and not violated, to the end that everywhere in our vast country life liberty and our property may be secure.

It was long ago determined, gentlemen, that it is the certainty more, than the severity, of any punishment pronounced by the law for any disregard of its requirements, that is found effectual in the prevention of crime. This axiom is as true to-day, gentlemen, as when it was first expressed. We may be well assured that if every one who contemplates the commission of a crime could know that as certainly, as he violates the law so certainly he will receive the punishment provided for his disobedience, there would be much less of crime than unhappily for us every good man must be pained to know does exist.

Then it was most important gentlemen that the due and proper punishment for crime should be rendered most certain. While this necessity was clearly seen and appreciated too by our English ancestors, it was found important at the same time to protect the innocent against false accusation or malicious prosecution and these important objects claimed the attention of men eminent for their ability and virtue to whom England is this day greatly indebted for many of the principles upon which her criminal laws are founded, and we too for the just protection of our citizens by the great care required to be observed in ascertaining and punishing the guilty.

To the end then that crime might be most certainly punished and the innocent be most surely protected from false accusation or prosecution Grand Jurors were called in to aid in the administration of the criminal law.

To these ends then, gentlemen, the wisdom of man has not devised a more just system than that of requiring a body of men composed of prominent citizens selected for their intelligence and virtue to pass upon the accusation against every man before he can be held to answer such charge before the courts of the country. No system yet devised has been so promotive of these two great objects of the law as that which organized and established our Grand Juries.

You then gentlemen have a very important part to perform. It is no less than to to ascertain and find out the guilty that they may be tried and if convicted punished, and at the same time protect the innocent from malicious prosecutions, so that they be not even put to the trouble and expense of a trial.

There is gentlemen another subject to which I feel that it is my duty to call your attention and to express to you my views of your duty in regard to it. These relates to the 13th, 14th and 15th Amendments to the Constitution of the United States and the acts of Congress passed subsequently to these Amendments and pursuant to the power granted by them.

And I mention these in connection with provisions of our original Federal Constitution with a view to impress you with the fallacy of the opinion entertained by very many of our good and great men that each of the States of this Union are independent, free and sovereign powers. This view I well know has been entertained by very many as eminent for their ability and virtues as our country has produced, and indeed is still entertained by many to whom, to be just, I must accord as pure intentions as I claim for myself and those with whom I agree. I express gentlemen to you with confidence the opinion that since the adoption of our Federal Constitution in 1789—there has been no such power as an independent and sovereign State of the Federal Union in the sense in which the advocates of that theory have and do still contend. I wish you now distinctly to understand gentlemen that I mention this subject with a view to no political effect whatever, but only that you may see my view of your power, responsibility and duty as jurors.

What do the terms "sovereign and independent" mean? The term Sovereign according to the best Lexicographer of any age, signifies a supreme ruler; one who possesses the highest authority without control. The term Independent according to the same authority means, "Not subject to the control of others not subordinate; free, unconstrained." Since I have formed any opinion upon this subject I have ever maintained that there never was an independent sovereign State a member of this Federal Union since the adoption of the Federal Constitution. Texas was it is true for a short period, a sovereign State, but not for one hour after she accepted her position as a State in the Federal Union.

Our Federal Constitution was formed not only by the States but by the American people, for the States acted throughout but in accord with the will of the people as expressed through the ballot box. By the formation and acceptance of that compact the States that were original parties surrendered their sovereignty—and such as have been since admitted as members placed themselves under the same restraints at their very creation as States of the Union.

I am well aware gentlemen that the views I express in regard to the legitimate power of the Federal Government are not acceptable to many gentlemen whom I know and fully appreciate, many of whom I know to be eminent for their talents and their virtues. Such I know will be just to themselves and in being so, they will not be uncharitable toward any for these differences of opinion.

What were the objects to be attained by the formation of the Federal Constitution and Union. The good and great men who assembled in Philadelphia, and represented the people of the United States, declare the great purposes to be accomplished in these words "We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect Union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general wellfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America." No one will be so bold as to declare any one of these objects were not proper to be attained. These wise and good men said, indeed the people of America knew that difficulties had arisen which threatened seriously the domestic tranquility, and that dissensions would arise threatening more seriously the existence of the States and the liberties of the people without a federal compact of the character then devised.

By the terms of this instrument powers are vested in the Executive, the Legislative and the Judicial Departments of this Federal Government which are entirely opposed to and inconsistent with the sovereignty of the States. Not only so as to powers expressly delegated to those departments, but there are also restrictions upon the States, forbidding the passing or enforcing of certain laws. And while men alike eminent for their learning as their virtues have at all times been found to differ in regard to the extent of these restrictions upon the States and powers intended to be conferred upon the Federal Government, yet few have gone so far as to hold that the Federal Government is not superior in the powers expressly conferred, or that the States may do that which is expressly forbidden.

Prior to our late unhappy difficulties there were twelve Amendments made and adopted to the Constitution of the United States. These were mainly of a character limiting and defining the Federal power. Subsequently there have been three Amendments, and it is to these and the legislation of Congress passed pursuant to the provisions of these Amendments that I desire to call your particular attention.

The 13th, or that submitted by the the joint resolution of the two Houses of Congress passed on the 1st of February 1865, and which was afterwards adopted by the required number of States, abolishes Slavery or involuntary servitude except for crime throughout the United States.

The 14th Amendment extends citizenship to that class of people who previous to the adoption of the 13th Amendment had been slaves, and all others born or naturalized in the United States and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, and restrains the States from the passage or enforcement of any law discriminating in its character.

The 15th and last Amendment is that proposed by joint resolution of Congress passed Feb. 27th, 1869, and subsequently adopted. By this it is declared "the right of all citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude." And to each of these Amendments it is added that the Congress of the United States "shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation." The Congress of the United States has, by acts suitable in its judgment, prohibited by pains and penalties the violation of any right thus conferred upon any citizen.

Now as to the policy or propriety of these Amendments and of these Acts I do not propose even as much as to intimate my opinion. Were I to do so it would render me amenable to a charge which I would be pained to know was believed by any gentleman whose respect I value.

But, gentlemen, I do feel that it is my duty to declare to you the view I entertain in regard to the force and validity of these Amendments and Acts, as well as your duty in respecting them as laws and enforcing their provisions. And in the discharge of this duty I know of no more appropiate language than that of the great American Judge Chief Justice Marshal. In 1821 it was insisted before the Supreme Court that the Constitution of United States had provided no tribunal for the construction of itself or of the laws of the nation; that these could be determined by the Courts of the States and consequently there could be as many different constructions of the same clause of the Constitution or Acts of Congress as there were States of the Union; that such was not a mischief, or if a mischief was irremediable. In delivering the opinion of the Court in the case of Cohen vs, the State of Virginia, fully conscious of the importance of the question involved and of his duty, in alluding to the position of counsel the eminent, learned and able Chief Justice said: "If such be the Constitution, it is the duty of the Court to bow with respectful submission to its provisions; if such be not the Constitution it is equally the duty of this Court to say so, and to perform that task which the American people have assigned to the Judicial Department of their Government." Again in his opinion delivered in this case he says: "The "American States, as well as the American people, have believed a close and firm Union to be essential to their liberty and to their happiness. They have been taught by experience, that this "Union cannot exist without a government for the whole, and they have been "taught by the same experience that this "Government would be a mere shadow, "that must disappoint all their hopes, unless invested with large portions of that "sovereignity which belongs to independent States. Under the influence of this "opinion, and thus instructed by experience, the American people in the "Conventions of their respective States adopted the present Constitution. If it "could be doubted, whether from its nature, it were not supreme in all cases "where it is empowered to act, that doubt "would be removed by the declaration "that this Constitution and the laws of "the United States which shall be made "in pursuance thereof, shall be the supreme law of the land, and the Judges in "every State shall be bound thereby, anything in the Constitution or laws of any "State to the contrary notwithstanding." "This is the authoritative language of the "American people; and if gentlem please, "of the American States. It marks with "lines too strong to be mistaken, the characteristic distinction between the Government of the Union and those of the "States. The General Government, "though limited as to its objects is supreme with respect to those objects. "This principle is a part of the Constitution and if there be any who deny its "necessity, none can deny its authority.

"To this supreme Government ample "powers are confided; and if it were possible to doubt the great purposes for "which they were so confided, the people "of the United States have declared that "they are given in order to perform a "more perfect Union, establish justice, "insure domestic tranquility, provide for "the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of "liberty to themselves and their posterity."

Such then, gentlemen, are the provisions of the Constitution of our country as it was adopted by our State and by the expressed approbation of the people of our State in 1789.

I have stated to you the character of the Amendments to this Constitution made before the late conflict as well as those made subsequent to that unhappy civil strife, my only purpose being to impress you properly as to the authority upon which the recent Acts of Congress are based. To secure to its people domestic tranquility and to every citizen his rights are duties of the highest character from a Government to its citizens. From all to whom such protection is extended by the Government allegience is due and required. The Congress of the United States has passed, pursuant to the powers conferred by the three Amendments last referred to, there separate Acts for the purpose of making effectual those Amendments and securing to that class to whom citizenship was extended the equal rights conferred.

The first of these Acts was passed April 9, 1869. It is scarcely necessary that I should describe to you the provisions of this Act, inasmuch as they were re-enacted by Congress by the Act of May 31, 1870, which latter Act is much more elaborate and comprehensive in its character. By the 1st section of this Act it is declared "that all citizens of the United States who are or shall be otherwise qualified by law to vote at any election by the people in any State, Territory, School district, muncipality, or other territorial subdivision, shall be entitled and allowed to vote at all such elections without distinction of race, color, or previous condition, of any constitution, law, custom, usage or regulation of any State or Territory to the contrary notwithstanding."

In some of the States it is required by law that certain requirements shall be conformed to entitling citizens to vote, such as registering, as in this State, officers are appointed and charged with the duties of registering voters. By the second section of the Act it is provided that if any such officer shall refuse or knowingly omit to allow any such citizen opportunity to perform any such pre-requisite, without destinction as to any so entitled, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and is indictable.

By the third section it is declared that the offer of any citizen entitled to vote to conform to any requirement of the law, though his offer or application may be refused (if wrongful) will be held and deemed as if he had conformed; and if the officers of the election shall refuse to allow such person so rejected, to vote, such officer shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

The fourth section enacts that if any person by force, bribery, threats, intimidation or other unlawful means, shall hinder, delay, prevent, or obstruct, or shall combine with others to hinder, delay, or obstruct any citizen from doing any act required to be done to entitle him to vote or prevent him from voting at any election shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

It is also made a crime to go in disguise upon the premises of another with intent to intimidate another, preventing the free exercise of his will in voting, or to prevent his voting, or prevent him having voted in any particular way, or for committing any other crime while acting with intent to commit the last described act. It is made unlawful by this act for one to personate another in registering to vote or in voting.

Congress subsequently regarding these Acts inadequate for the purposes designated, did on the 20th of April 1871, pass another Act the provisions of which are the most important for your consideration, and are as follows:

(His Honor here read the Act, and proceeded as follows:)

I charge you that the provisions of these laws are constitutional and valid, and demand respect and obedience from this Court and from you. Justice is due from every man to his neighbors and fellow citizens. The constituted authorities have declared that no man or combination of men shall interfere by threat or force to influence the action of any citizen in the exercise of the right of franchise, or because of the manner in which he has exercised that right, and it is made unlawful to do these things and heavy penalties are pronounced against those who violate the provisions of these laws.

If any have done any of the acts forbidden by these laws it is not a matter of choice with you to say whether you will present them as violators of the law, but it is a necessity and a duty that you will do so, nay it is your sworn duty to do it.

Proclamation of the President.—Martial Law Proclaimed in Nine Counties of South Carolina.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The previously notified five days' notice to disperse, given to the Ku-Klux in Spartanburg and eight other counties, having expired, the following proclamation was issued from the Executive Office to-day:

Whereas, By an act of Congress, entitled "An Act to Enforce the Provisions of the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, and for other purposes," approved the 20th day of April, Anno Domini, 1871, power is given to the President of the United States, when in his judgment the public safety shall require it to suspened the privileges of the writ of habeas corpus in any State or part of a State whenever combination and conspiracies exist in such State or part of a State, for the purpose of depriving any portion or class of the people of such State of the rights, privileges, immunities, and protection named in the Constitution of the United States and secured by the act of Congress aforesaid, and whenever such combinations and conspiracies do so obstruct and hinder the execution of the laws of any such State, and of the United States, as to deprive the people aforesaid of the rights, privileges, immunities, and protection aforesaid, and do oppose and obstruct the laws of the United States and their due execution, and impede and obstruct the due course of justice under the same; and wherever such combinations shall be organized and armed, and so numerous and powerful as to be able, by any violence, either to overthrow or set at defiance the constituted authorities of the said State and of the United States within said State, and whenever, by reason of said causes, the conviction of such offenders and the presevation of the public peace shall become, in such State, or part of a State, impracticable; and

Whereas, Such unlawful combinations and conspiracies for the purposes aforesaid are declared by the act of Congress aforesaid to be rebellious against the Government of the United States; and

Whereas, By said act of Congress, it is provided that before the President shall suspend the privileges of the writ of habeas corpus, he shall first have made proclamation commanding such insurgents to disperse; and

Whereas, On the 12th day of the present month of October the President of the United States did issue his proclamation, reciting therein, among other things, that such combinations and conspiracies did then exist in the counties of Spartanburg, York, Marion, Chester, Laurens, Newberry, Fairfield, Lancaster, and Chesterfield, in the State of South Carolina, and commanding thereby all persons composing such unlawful combinations and conspiracies to disperse and retire peacefully to their home within five days from the date thereof, and to deliver either to the Marshal of the United States for the District of South Carolina, or to any of his deputies, or to any military officer of the United States within the said counties, all arms, ammunition, and uniforms, disguises and other means and implements used, kept, possessed or controlled by them for carrying out the unlawful purposes for which the said combinations and conspiracies are organized; and

Whereas, The insurgents eggaged in such unlawful combinations and conspiracies within the counties aforesaid have not dispersed and retired peacefully to their respective homes, and have not delivered to the Marshall of the United States, or to any of his deputies, or to any military officer of the United States within said counties, all arms, ammunition, uniforms, disguises, and other means and implements used, kept, possessed, or controlled by them for carrying out the unlawful purposes for which the said combinations and conspiracies are organized, as commanded by said proclamation, but do still

OUR TOWN AND COUNTRY—PAST, PRESENT AND FUTURE.

Anterior and up to the late war Elizabeth City was the fairest and most thriving town in North Carolina. It contained a large number of fine residences, many citizens of wealth, two Banks with large capital, two newspapers, several prosperous Ship Yards and a large shipping trade with the Northern cities and the West Indies. But the war came and destroyed all,—swept houses, and banks, and trade away as with a besom of destruction. For eight long years the town was a village of ruins,—the people disheartened, the victims of despair.

Near three years ago a few energetic Northern men located here, and we established the NORTH CAROLINIAN. It circulated widely in the North. Very soon Northern men began to visit us. They were so favorably impressed with our location and climate and soil as to purchase lots in town and farms in the country, and finally to bring their families here and settle among us. They brought some money and a great deal of enterprize. Trade began to revive and business succeeded stagnation. A new era dawned. The Northern population in Elizabeth City and Pasquotank county now numbers over three hundred. Their influence is already being felt and seen. In the country, farms whose fences were down, and fields open to the common, and buildings going "to the bad," are beginning to assume a change for the better and to show a "reconstruction" in the best sense of the term. In the town old buildings are repaired, new and elegant private residences are being erected, two Banks are again in operation, large mercantile houses are established and doing an active trade, mills have been built and are rapidly manufacturing lumber, and everything begins to assume the appearance of life, activity, enterprize and thrift.

And all this will increase. Our material advantages are not surpassed by any section in the United States. There is no question about this. Our water communication, cheapness of transportation, salubrity of climate, fertility of the soil, its adaptability to all the fruits and vegetables and grains, valuable timber, with the comparative low price of the land, make this town and country especially desirable for the Northern immigrant.

The fact that there is already such a large Northern settlement here establishes two things: first that the new immigrant will not be coming among entire strangers so far as section is concerned, and secondly that a Northern man can live here with his family just as safely and as comfortably as at the North. These two questions settled—and they are matters of doubt in the minds of many who would like to remove South—the other advantages we have enumerated are additional inducements to come. And the fact that there are so many Northern people here and that everything is as peaceable and quiet as in the most orderly section of the North makes this the section to come to. The experiment of Northern immigration has been tested here and that success fully. The rubicon is passed. The Northern man with not very large means, who wishes to better his condition, cannot fail, if he has energy and industry, to do so by coming here.

THE DEMOCRATIC CONFESSION.

The letter of the "Democratic lawyers" —and they embrace the leaders of the North Carolina Democracy—which we published last week, has caused a great many people all over the State to reconsider, and to ask themselves the question whether this confession is not a vindication of Governor HOLDEN? They well remember that a year ago, he appealed, time and again, to these men to use their influence to do just what they now promise the will and can do. Why didn't they do it then? Aye, and the intelligent people of the State have not forgotten the fact that the evidence before the Court of Impeachment last winter was nearly, if not quite, as strong as that at the United States Court. Why didn't these Democratic gentlemen volunteer, then and there, to stop the Ku Klux? Why is it that they waited until they saw SHOTWELL and OWENS start for the Albany Penetentiary? The confession of these men that they can henceforth cause these violations of law and public justice to cease is an acknowledgement that they could have done so before? Why didn't they do it? Had they hearkened to the repeated appeals of Gov. HOLDEN the late dark chapters in the history of North Carolina need never have been written.

The Fair at Raleigh last week was a success. The attendance was very large.

The Legislature meets in Raleigh on the third Monday in November.

LET US HAVE A COTTON FACTORY.

We are satisfied that money invested in a Cotton Factory here would pay a handsome dividend. The raw material is raised here, and the cost of building as well as that of labor is cheaper here than in the North, especially in New England. There is no reason why cotton cannot be manufactured into fabrics here just as well as it can be raised in the raw state. And as we now pass through our stores and see the immense stock of cotton fabrics lying upon the shelves and counters the question involuntarily presents itself, why send North for these? Why pay a treble commission—one here another at Norfolk and a third at New York—besides the freight and charges back again for the muslins and yarns that ought to be manufactured right here at home. The truth is, cotton can be manufactured here from ten to fifteen per cent cheaper than in Massachusetts, or Rhode Island. Nor is this all. Every Factory erected here, employing from one to three hundred hands, would just so much increase our population, make a better home market for the products of all our farmers, more customers for all our tradesmen and mechanics, a larger trade for our merchants, and more patrons for our schools. Thus every interest would be benefited and advanced.

This is an enterprize, properly entered into, that cannot fail. There is no risk in it. And it is one that Southern men ought to embark in at once. Do not wait for Northern capitalists, but let ten or twenty Southern men in this and a few adjoining counties who have from ten to twenty thousand dollars of available capital—and there are such—join together and form a joint Stock Company and build a Factory at once. They can do it. They OUGHT to do it. It would not only be setting a good example and encourage enterprize, but it would benefit every interest in this section and result in pecuniary profit to themselves. We repeat: Don't waite for Northern men, but do it yourselves. Let it be demonstrated that there are native Carolinians who have pluck, and public spirit and enterprize.

MARTIAL LAW IN SOUTH CAROLINA.

On our first page will be found the proclamation issued by the President suspending the writ of habeas corpus in the Counties of Spartanburg, York, Marion, Chester, Laurens, Newberry, Fairfield, Lancaster and Chesterfield, South Carolina. For months past these counties have been the theatre of a reign of terror as cruel, as tyrannical and as despotic as was ever known in France; the laws of the country have been systematically outraged, and the authority of the President has been treated with disdain. Men suspected of loyalty to the Government have been ordered to leave their homes, and when their command was not complied with they were ruthlessly murdered.

The President first issued a proclamation of warning. He gave notice to these midnight assassins and marauders to surrender their arms and obey the laws. They paid no heed to the warning. The penalty threatened has now been very properly inflicted. Let the villians be dealt with according to the law made and provided for them. They will see that Gen. GRANT is not the man to shrink from responsibility or duty.

A MOVE IN THE RIGHT DIRECTION.

The developments brought to light by the Ku-Klux investigations seriously compromise certain members of the North Carolina Legislature. At a public meeting held at Raleigh a few days ago, the following, among other resolutions, was adopted:

Resolved, That we, a portion of the free citizens of Wake county, respectfully and earnestly petition to our General Assembly, to investigate these accusations, thus publicly made by witnesses in our Courts of Justice, and should any officer or member of either House of the General Assembly be found to belong to this secret and mischievous organization, or who in any manner have heretofore counselled and abetted the perpetration of the murders, scourgings and other devilish cruelties, which has brought reproach upon the good name of our State, and is a disgrace to the civilization of the age, that such officers and members be at once expelled, as bad and wicked men and unworthy to participate in the legislation of our country.

This we pronounce a movement in the right direction. Let the Legislature act, and that promptly.

In Six Months, beginning March 1st, and ending October 1st, the Administration has paid off Sixty Millions, forty-four, thousand nine hundred and seven dollars of the National debt. This has been done by an honest and economical administretion of the finances, and in the face of a large reduction of taxes. The annual interest upon the public debt has been reduced by this payment three millions six hundred thousand dollars.

Certain officials are after the Mormons, prosecuting the leaders for adultery. The trial of one HAWKINS—a prominent Mormon—has just closed, the verdict being guilty. This is considered a test case, and virtually places the polygamist at the mercy of the first wife who, under the law, is the only person who can proceed against him. In this case HAWKINS' first wife appeared against him. The penalty is from three to twenty years imprisonment.

The Government officers, in investigating the Ku-klux in the South, and in collecting secret information which has made the recent movements against the organization so effective, discovered that in many places the agents of the Associated Press and the telegraph operators were members of the Klans. This will account for the meagreness and misrepresentation of the general Press dispatches from those places where the habeas corpus is suspended.

The Treasury Department is considering the feasibility of adopting the new plan for the redemption of mutilated currency. The plan under consideration is, that where more than half of a note is presented, to pay its full value, but to pay nothing at all for parts of notes less than half the whole size. This will simplify the method of redemptions, and is regarded favorably by both the Secretary and the Treasurer.

Our Raleigh namesake—the democratic North Carolinian—now appears in a daily as well as a weekly issue. The paper is a great improvement on the Joe Turner style of journalism. Of course it will be sustained for the decent Democracy, being disgusted with the vulgarity and scurrility of the Sentinel, will transfer their support from the latter to the Carolinian. Though widely differing with our cotemporary in politics, we are glad to be able to endorse its high toned and dignified editorial conduct.

It seems that Josiah Turner, Jr., has got in a tight place. If a man named Forsythe does not swear falsely, Josiah has forged a paper and printed it in the Raleigh Sentinel, which he edits. Mr. Samuel F. Philips the Assistant District Attorney, and Col. S. T. Carrow, the United States Marshal, have taken Josiah in hand and he yelps like a cur dog, which is, indeed, not far from his natural vernacular.—Wilmington Post.

To the credit of our State be it known that this bad man's influence is rapidly on the wave. In every conflict, in the end,

"Right will come uppermost
And justice will be done."

The Sufferers of the West—Let us Help Them.

To the Editor of the North Carolinian:

I see that the Governor of the State has issued a proclamation calling upon the People to do what they can for the alleviation of the sufferers of the Northwest, under the heavy affliction which has fallen upon them. The like of this mighty calamity has not been known, 'Tis more appalling than anything recorded in history or celebrated in song. With it nothing is comparable in the past, and it is fervently to be hoped the future will furnish no paralelle, save the great day when "the earth will be burned with fervent heat and the heavens rolled together as a parchment scroll," The curses of the Prophets and the visions of the Evangelists are as nothing in comparison to it. Of course you will publish the proclamation, and I hope you will suggest a time and place for a meeting of our citizens to take action in the premeses. Urge all to come and of the abundance with which Heaven has blessed them, contribute to the relief of those upon whom the fiery fiend has preyed. Let churchmen come and cast in their alms, remembering the widow and her mite and cruise of oil and its results. Let the lovers of mammon come in confidence that bread cast upon the waters will return after many days, multiplied many times; but above all, let the great heart of the people come, with open hearts and generous hands, from a conviction of duty, which is better and more manly still.

A CITIZEN.

E. City, Oct. 23d, 1871.

An Anecdote.

To the Editor of the North Carolinian.

A very diffident young man of my acquaintance, wishing to relate, at a party, a story which he had just read in a paper, remarked that he had a tale to tell which he thought would interest them, whereupon an intimate friend of his, desiring that he should be more particular as to the selection of his language, said to him in a low tone of voice, "It is improper to say tale, and you should substitute the word anecdote in the place of it."

The young man thanked him for the correction, and said he would be more careful how he used such slang phrases hereafter. On the following morning, when he went to the lot (as it is called) to feed his horse, what should he see but his horse's tail eaten off! He ran back to the house in a great hurry to relate what had just happened to his horse. "Oh! I have something to tell you all," said he, "the calf has gnawed my horse's anecdote off." This created no little laughter, and that young man is called, to this day, Mr. Anecdote.

To the People of North Carolina.

Whereas, a most destructive and calamitous fire has recently occurred in the City of Chicago, by which it has been laid in ashes and over one hundred thousand inhabitants have been deprived of homes and reduced to poverty and want; and whereas, it is the christian duty of the benevolent and charitable, as I know it will be the pleasure of all such of North Carolina, to sympathize with and extend aid and succor to the unfortunate victims of this terrible calamity. Now, therefore, with full confidence in the earnest cooperation of the good people of North Carolina, I, Tod. R. Caldwell, Governor of the State, do appeal to all who can be moved by generous impulses and within whose bosoms beat hearts that feel sympathy for suffering humanity, to adopt such measures without delay, as will afford material releif in this their time of need, to our fellow country men, who have been so sorely afflicted. Done at the City of Raleigh this 13th Oct., 1871.

TOD. R CALDWELL,
Governor.

The South Carolina Ku Klux. Reported Surrender of an Entire "Den."

Washington, Oct. 22, 1871.

Advices received here from South Carolina state that at Spartanburg, on Wednesday evening last, a "Ku Klux den," consisting of a chief and 20 members, surrendered to United States Marshal Johnson, with their arms and disguises. Up to Friday morning 70 arrests had been made in the vicinity of that town alone. Spartanburg is known to be the headquarters for that Congress district. Arrests have been made in other counties, but the number is not known here. A number of well-known citizens are missing, including Mr. Lyle, a member of the Legislature, who is reported to be the chief of the Klan for that district. Among those who have disappeared are two or three clergymen, knawn for their strong rebel proclivities.

The officers of the law are proceeding steadily with their work, and before the arrests are all made they will, it is affirmed, show the existence of a deep and wide conspiracy against the State, the laws, and all who sustain them. Most of the Ku Klux refugees are known to have fled to Georgia, where the Order is quite strong. The Grand Cyclops for that State is believed to be a son-in-law of Robert Toombs.

The National Colored Convention

Charleston, October 22.—The National Colored Convention met in Columbia on Wednesday—Lieut. Gov. Ransier, of South Carolina, being permanent president.

On Thursday resolutions endorsing President Grant's administration were introduced and referred.

Resolutions were adopted advocating the preservation of the reconstructed State governments and existing laws and the continuance in power of the Republican party; and also endorsing those Republicans who have come to the South from the North, and deprecating an attack upon any class within the Republican ranks.

Resolutions were introduced on Friday deprecating emigration to Liberia.

Congressman Elliott, of South Carolino, submitted yesterday an address to the American people. It asks for a more perfect recognition of the colored people in the work-shops and all other industrial pursuits, that they may become proficient in mechanical sciences, and thereby protect skilled artisans from having to compete in the market with workmen of inferior capability. It asks from Congress aid for the education of the poor children of the South. It demands one standard of duty or policy for all citizens, and no special favor but to deal with all alike. It affirms that the colored citizens have not the desire to strike a line of action not common to the whole people, and concludes with a hope for a speedy abolition of slavery in every part of the world.

"These apples are not fit for a hog to eat," said a kid-gloved dandy to an apple woman. "You jest try one, and see," she retorted.

Moses A. Dow pays the largest individual tax in Charleston, Mass., the figures being $7,700 this year. He made his money in the Waverly Magazine.

One thousand dollars are offered for the best bale of cotton exhibited at the Alabama State Fair commencing October 31st and continuing five days.

A "city" out in Nevada, called Bob-Tailed Gulch, has reven dwelling houses and thirty-seven saloons. There is talk of tearing down some of the houses to make more room.

Maj. John P. Leonard, a soldier of the war of 1812, and one of the oldest citizens of Fayetteville, died a few days since. The old warrior breathed his last in the house in which he was born some seventy-nine years ago.

Rochester, October 23.—There are extensive fires in the swamps and woods in Monroe, Niagara, Genesse, Wayne and Seneca counties. The wind is blowing a gale and the smoke compels the use of lamps here to day.

The earthquakes are dancing a modest reel up and down the Pacific Islands, and the natives seem to think that a jig will follow. Manna Loa, in the Hawaiian Isles, is giving evidence that its period of triennial labor has come about, and every one persistently believes in a coming tidal wave.

General Butler's Dutch Gap Canal, which at the time of its construction was derided and looked upon as a ridiculous undertaking, has proved to be an enterprise of great practical benefit. It is now used in the navigation of James River, and shortens the water route to Richmond seven miles.

Fanny Fern thinks there are two sides to the matter of coming home after a summer vacation. It is all well to talk poetically about "home, sweet home," and go into ecstacies over fresh air and elbow room; but cleaning carpets, washing paint, putting things to rights, and making clothes, are very prosy, matter of fact operations which nobody likes to engage in.

Four immense iron safes arrived in Philadelphia Monday, consigned to Hon. James Pollock, Director of the United States Mint. These chests came through by Adams Express from Chicago, and are said to contain $2,000,000 bullion, which has been rescued from the premises there formerly occupied by the Assistant United States Treasurer. The transfer of the bullion was made by order of Secretary Boutwell, as a greater part is believed to be melted and needing to be recoined.

Pennsylvania has decied to revise its constitution, and both Democratic and Republican journals are already urging upon her people the adoption in some form of the theory of minority representation. The growth of this idea has been remarkably rapid during the past two years, and whenever a constitutional convention is held minority representation is earnestly urged, even if it is not adopted. It is a measure which benefits no party in particular, but which is intended to render democratic government more thoroughly and truly democratic.

Local and Personal.

☞A lot of matter prepared for this issue crowded out.

☞The shipping of Cotton continues. The price is still fair.

☞The Daughters of Charity will accept our thanks for the Cake sent this office.

☞The proceeds of the Supper in the Colored Academy on Tuesday evening amounted to over $26.

☞The local newspaper is a traveling agent bearing home news. Every family should have a copy.

☞We learn that duck and other wild game are very abundant in Currituck. We'll try and find time to "go and see."

☞"Boys will be boys." Our Devil says, of course they will, for how could they be girls? We give it up!

☞PERRY'S big potato is beaten. Our friend C. W. HOLLOWELL sends us one weighing eight pounds! Who can beat that?

☞Is the paper you are now reading a borrowed one? If so, lay it down and read no further until you have become a subscriber.

☞Hon. GEO. W. BROOKS will hold Court at Wilmington, beginning on Monday next. This week he is holding Court at New-Bern.

☞M. N. EDWARDS of Purdy's Creek, N. Y., S. VANBUSKIRK of Hornellsville N. Y., and C. A. REIMENSNYDER, Esq., Sunbury, Pa. are now on a visit to this place.

☞The old Poet evidently knew what he was talking about when he declared that

"A lie will run a dozen miles or more
Before the truth has gone outside the door."

We see it verified almost every day of our lives.

☞On Tuesday evening an old colored man who had been to town with his horse and Cart, on leaving for home met with a singular accident. His horse suddenly stumbled and fell, and in falling fractured its neck, resulting in death.

☞We had the pleasure during the past week, of making the personal acquaintance of Hon. S. T. CARROW, United States Marshal for North Carolina. He impressed us as a man of strong good sense, blunt, outspoken, candid, practical, honest, courageous. He knows his duty and dares to perform it. The Government is fortunate in the selection of an officer so admirably qualified to perform the responsible duties required at this critical time. Col. CARROW is the right man in the right place.

☞A correspondent desires us to explain the meaning of "Proverbs." We take pleasure in doing so. They are sentences which briefly and forcibly express some practical truth or the results of experience and observation. To illustrate, we reproduce the following to which our correspondent as well as "the rest of mankind" would do well to give heed.

Thou shouldst never read the copy on a printer's case, or the sharp and hooked container thereof, or he may knock you down.

Never inquire thou of an editor for the news, for behold, it is his business at the appointed time, to give it thee without asking.

It is not right that thou should'st ask him who is the author of an article, for his duty requireth him to keep such things to himself.

When thou dost enter into his office, take heed unto thyself that thou dost not look at what may be lying open and concerneth thee not, for that is not meet in the sight of good breeding.

Neither examine thou the proof sheet, for it is not ready to meet thine eye, that thou mayest understand.

Prefer thine own town paper to any other, and subscribe for it immediately. Pay for it in advance, and it shall be well with thee and thine.

☞In reply to a correspondent we would say that every Teacher should possess the quality termed "aptness to teach." Without this, all his knowledge will be of little avail. Many possess a knowledge of the different branches taught in schools, and can answer readily to one who is also acquainted with them; but to state to one who understands the subject is one thing, and to communicate to a learner, quite another. Many can, and do pass the required examination, but fail when they try to teach. The teacher must be able to interest his pupils—present the studies in such a way as to encourage them to go forward with pleasure; must know just when and how to assist, so as not to have his pupils depend on him to do their work, but be encouraged to work for themselves,—so that they may thus grow up to be practical men and women, ready when they leave school, to depend on their own judgment, and do their own thinking. It is doubtful whether this quality can ever be fully acquired, unless nature has done something for the individual; but much aid may be received by reading the excellent educational works written by those who have had long experience in the training of youth, even where teachers cannot have the benefit of special training in a Normal School, which is undoubtedly the best place to acquire aptness to teach.

☞J. E. RADFORD, of Rose Dale, has left a sweet Potato at our office measuring 23 inches in circumference. By the way he informs us that the crop in that section is the largest ever grown there.

☞JAMES L. BALL Esq., has been engaged by B. F. KEATON as salesman in his store. Mr. BALL is an old and experienced merchant and understands selling goods and waiting on customers.

☞The colored Baptists are making good progress here. On Sabbath last their Minister Rev. CHARLES C. HODGES immersed twelve persons. The ceremonies took place at the river near Capt. HUNTER'S shipyard.

☞Our townsman Mr. J. F. CHERRY has placed the editor and "the boys of the office" under special obligation for a magnificent treat of fried Oysters. He knows exactly how to fix 'em up "to make them pleasant to take". By the way, he keeps Oysters in all styles constantly on hand. See the sign of the "red light."

☞The Federal Court at this place adjourned on Thursday evening. There were but few cases on either the criminal or civil docket. The Marshal informs us that there is less business in this, the Albemarle District, than in any other of the whole State. Quite a compliment for Eastern Carolina.

☞The Superior Court of Hertford county is now in session at Winton. A man by the name of BRIDGERS is on trial for murder, also a colored man named LIVERMAN, accused of having committed a rape upon the person of a white woman. It is said that a special venire of one hundred and fifty men will be summoned for these trials.

☞The Virginia Conference of the African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church has been in session at this place during the past week. There was a full attendance of Ministers and laymen. The serious illness of the Bishop prevented his attendance and hence the duty of presiding devolved upon W. H. PITTS, the worthy Pastor in charge here. On Sabbath morning afternoon and evening the Church was crowded to hear sermons from Elders SAWYER of Southampton Va., COWPER of Hertford N. C., and GIVENS of Petersburg, Va. We understand that the proceedings of the Conference have been harmonious and that the prospects of the Church are auspicious.

☞The position of a Revenue officer, if vigilant and faithful, is not as pleasant as many imagine. The law creates the office and specifies its duties. The faithful officer is obliged to take the law for his guide. His oath of office leaves him no option. He must enforce the law whether the amo't of revenue involved is, as Judge BROOKS was constrained to say, "two cents or two thousand dollars"—the principle is the same. When an officer becomes cognizant of violations of law he is obliged to notice them; and where offenders, after kindly warning and repeated explanations, are brought into Court to answer an indictment the plea of ignorance falls to the ground and the charge of "persecution" is false.

☞In another column of this issue of the NORTH CAROLINIAN will be found an appeal from the Governor to the good people of North Carolina for aid to relieve the pressing necessities and sufferings of those made homeless and destitute by the terrible fires in the West. We suggest that there be a public meeting of our citizens called to take proper action in responding to this appeal. A calamity unparralelled in human history has befallen those people. They are suddenly bereft of homes, shelter, clothing and food, and unless relieved must perish. We owe it to them—it is a debt we owe our common humanity—to contribute our part in rendering them relief in this their time of great want and peril. Since the above was written a prominent citizen has handed us a communication on the subject, and asks us to call a public meeting. After consultation we will do so, announcing the time and place by posters.

LOCAL PORT-FOLIO.

A literary work is like smoke—when it comes in volumes. Young ladies are partial to twilight and sunset—because they are daughters of Eve. Annoying—newspapers borrowers. Confined to its bed—the River. Very sour in her disposition—the lady whose blood curdled in her veins. An ex-planter—a retired carpenter. The great American desert—fruit. A question of time—asking a lady her age. The best tobacco stamp—stamp it under your foot. Recovering—the man who was injured by a burst of applause. The difference between farmers and their wives—the one sow wheat the other sow tares. Gratifying notes of the day—reduction of the National debt and increase of Republican majorities everywhere. Rather empty this week—Our Port Folio.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

TRUST WHAT TIME HAS SANCTIONED.—The ranking in the voice of the people is the voice of the divinity, may in some cases, be open to doubt, but the testimony of honest and enlightened witnesses extending through a series of years, and all to the same purport, is worthy of credence, admits of no question. Upon such testimony the reputation of Hostter's Stomach Bitters as an antidote and cure for many ills is based. During the twenty years that it has been before the world, innumerable preparations intended to equal, with it, have gone up like rockets, and gone down like the extinguished stick. Meanwhile the progress of that incomparable tonic has been swift and steady—always upward and onward like the eagles flight. Its introduction produces a revolution in therapeutics, and it proved to be one of those salutary revolutions that cannot go backwards. To-day Hostetter's Bitters is one of the most popular remedies in christendom, and commands a larger sale than any other medicinal preparation, domestic or imported, on this side of the Atlantic. As a cure for dyspepsia, bilious disorders, nervous affections, general debility, and as a preventive of epidemic fevers, it takes precedence of every other remedy. This fact should teach the ambitious country dealers who endeavor to foist their local abortions on the public in its stead, how futile their small attempts to cajole the community must necessarily be. Where the game fish have failed there is no chance for the "suckers."

HORNER'S MARYLAND SUPER-PHOSPHATE.

WE COURT THE CHEMIST'S INQUIRY.

After 23 years' experience in the Fertilising business, and after establishing a wide reputation for the purity and excellence of this Bone Dust, the subscriber has been induced to prepare a Phosphate suitable to the requirements and everyway worthy the attention of the Southern Farmer.

The "Maryland" is a rejuvinator and permanent improver of the soil. It stimulates equal to Peruvian Guano, and sustains equal to Bone, being composed almost entirely of these ingredients with a very liberal percentage of Potash in the residuum. There is no adulterator or inferior article used—every particle of the Phosphate being of essential benefit to the land. Neither pains nor expense have been spared in its preparation, and we claim for it the greatest benefit to the farmer from the smallest outlay. For cotton, wheat, corn, and as a general stimulant and aliment for worn and impoverished land, there can be nothing superior. It is warranted to run as high in Ammonia and higher in Bone Phosphate than any other fertiliser in the market. Price $50 per ton, in new bags. No charge for delivery. In preparation, long and favorably known, will thoroughly re-invigorate broken down and low-spirited horses, by strengthening and cleansing the stomach and intestines.

It is a sure preventive of all diseases incident to this animal, such as LUNG FEVER, GLANDERS, YELLOW WATER, HEAVES, COUGHS, DISTEMPER, FEVERS, FOUNDER, LOSS OF APPETITE AND VITAL ENERGY, &c. Its use improves the wind, increases the appetite—gives a smooth and glossy skin—and transforms the miserable skeleton into a fine looking and spirited horse.

To keepers of Cows this preparation is invaluable. It is a sure preventive against Rinderpest, Hollow Horn, etc. It has been proven by actual experiment to increase the quantity of milk and cream twenty per cent. and make the butter firm and sweet. In fattening cattle, it gives them an appetite, loosens their hide, and makes them thrive much faster.

In all diseases of Swine, such as Coughs, Ulcers in the Lungs, Liver, &c., this article acts as a specific. By putting from one to half a paper to a paper in a barrel of swill the above diseases will be eradicated or entirely prevented. If given in time, a certain preventive and cure for the Hog Cholera.

AGRICULTURAL, HORTICULTURAL AND DOMESTIC MATTERS.

The Curry-Comb—Its Uses and Abuses.

This is just the season of all others, when the injudicious use of the curry-comb is a source of much evil and annoyance to the horse, subjecting him to much suffering indirectly, as well as by its direct application. A common remark among horsemen at this time of the year, is how desperately and fiercely the flies bite, and imagine the reason to be, some peculiarity about the fly at this season, which enables him to be more of a tormenter to the horse than at any other time.

Now this is not the case, for they are much more enfeebled now than at any other time of the year, and lie in a dormant state through the cold nights, and really require warmth from some source before they can move round sufficient to be of much annoyance to the horse, but once resuscitated by heat, and they at once move towards its source, whether it be the sun's rays, from the stove, or anything else, and whenever they come in close contact to the horse, they leave every other object seemingly, and that too for a double purpose—heat and food, and to him they persistently stick. Now if the hair be long, and the skin tough the flies find less warmth, and certainly their proboscis find more difficulty in penetrating sufficiently to cause the pain and irritation so peculiar to thin skinned, smooth haired animals. Such being, as they are, the true facts, anything which renders the skin sensitive, or hastens early depilation (loss of hair,) will much, very much increase the sufferings of the horse from the pest referred to.

Nothing does so much, all other things put together do not render the horse so much a subject of annoyance as the use, especially the injudicious use of the curry comb. At this season of the year it should be altogether discarded, at least for ten weeks, beginning with the first of September; this on the score of common humanity, should be observed, although as stated in a previous article, a horse should not be curry-combed in the winter months unless for the removal of patches of manure only, and there are means just as good as the curry-comb, which do not annoy the horse.

All animals who shed their coat of hair, their skin (as serpents,) or as birds do their feathers, feel very much depressed during the period, and the noble horse is not an exception to the rule, but suffers the same depression, from the same causes, with his almost human sensibilities to add, if anything, to his share of the sufferings which are indispensable.

In conclusion I beg of each person who has charge of horses to quietly consider my remarks and by simply calling to his aid good common sense, he will find the truthfulness of them.—Cor. in Western Farmer.

The Teeth of a Horse.

At five years of age a horse has 40 teeth, 12 incisor or front teeth, and four between the molars and incisors; but usually wanting in the mare.

At birth only the two nippers or middle incisors appear.

At a year old the incisors are all visible on the first or milk set.

At two years old, the permanent nippers have come through.

At four years old, the permanent divider next to the nippers are cut.

At five the mouth is perfect, the second set of teeth having been completed.

At six, the hollow under the nipper called the mark, has disappeared from the nippers, and diminished in the dividers.

At seven, the mark has disappeared from the dividers, and the next teeth or corners, are level, though showing the mark.

At eight the mark has gone from the corners, and the horse is said to be aged. After this time indeed authorities say that after five years, the age of a horse can only be conjectured. But the teeth gradually change their form, the incisors becoming round, oval and triangular. Dealers sometimes bishop the teeth of old horses; that is, scoop them out to intimate the mark; but this can be known only by the white edge of enamel which always surrounds the real mark, by the shape of the teeth, and other marks of age about the animal.—Rural Gentlemen.

Bees—The Moth-Worm.

All swarms should now be examined for the moth-worms, for many of them will be found safely ensconced in the tender comb, out of the reach of the bees. Take out the frames and look them over carefully one by one, so that a single worm may not escape. The weak swarms may be doubled, or, if you prefer, may be wintered by feeding, for what we mean by a weak swarm is one that is short of honey. In case of a few swarms, it is often desirable to feed these, as they can be made good, strong swarms by the time flowers come in the springs. I have tried both the doubling and the nursing plan, and in case of late swarms have done well in winter; but when the swarm is weak, caused by an inferior queen, it is better to give the swarm a new queen. I am led to suspect that a poor queen is often the cause of a weak swarm. Swarms coming off just as a drought sets in are liable to be short of honey, but not so short of number. It is well to get at the cause of weak swarms before we proceed to act, as this may aid us to do the best for them.—Cor. of Chicago Farmer.

Winter Care of Pears.

Make a point of regularly examining every week all the choice kinds of fruits that may be approaching ripeness or which are found not to be keeping well, so that everything may be used at the proper time, for the finest pears are worthless enough if allowed to become overripe before being used, and the same is the case with many varieties of apples. Also, look over the whole stock as often as time can be spared, removing any fruit that exhibits symtoms of decay, and put them aside for immediate use. Any of the choicer kinds of pears that do not ripen properly in the fruit room, should be removed to a warm, dry room for a few days. This will be found to greatly improve them. Keep the fruit as dry and cool as possible, and if the frost is excluded the fruit room can hardly be too cool when the object is to preserve the fruit plumb and round for a long time.—Rural Home.

Riches in Milk from different Breeds.

The Tennessee Agriculturist has an account of the farm of Gen. Ewell, of the Confederate army in Maury county, Tennessee. It contains 3,000 acres' 1,200 of which are under cultivation. He has 1,200 South Down, Cotswold, and half-blood sheep; about 400 head of cattle, and a butter dairy of 50 cows, from which 50 pounds of butter are daily supplied to a hotel. The editor states that he examined four specimens of milk, which twelve hours after milking gave the following percentage of cream: 26, 12, 8. The samples were from an Alderny, half-blood Alderney, Ayshire, and Durham respectively.

When there is love in the heart, there are rainbows in the eyes, which cover every black cloud with gorgeous hues.

OF VALUABLE

NORTH CAROLINA LANDS,

FOR SALE BY

GEORGE D. POOL.

Real Estate Agent,

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C.

In presenting my list of lands and other properties for sale, I would say that no section of the United States offers such inducements for capitalists and emigrants, as this section of North Carolina. In longevity and healthfulness, it will compare favorably with any where; and in easy and cheap transportation of products to market, in pleasantness of climate, in the sociability of the people, in great fertility, and durability of soil, no section can equal it.

A railroad will soon be built to Weldon, putting this place in direct communication by Rail, with the whole United States. This, together with our great fishing, farming and manufacturing interests, and certain early completion of already projected works of improvement for putting in nearer, cheaper and easier communication with the Ocean, will render this one of the most important commercial, and manufacturing points on the Southern country.

A Steam Saw and Grist Mill in the town of Nixonton, 8 miles from E. City. This Mill has a fine wharf and store attached on deep navigable water, the engine is 40 horse power, and all in good order. It is one of the finest locations to be found any where for custom work, and for getting good saw logs easily and cheaply. Price $4,000 cash.

Adjoining the mill property is 40 acres of fine land on the River, with three houses, all for $1200. Near the same is a good two story dwelling and 13 acres of land for $2,000, and a good one story dwelling, with one acre of land for $300.

Also two fine farms in Pasquotank county, 10 miles from E. City, within half mile of church, school house and post office. One tract contains about 400 acres, with fair buildings and mostly cleared, and the other contains 300 acres, with good two story dwelling, large barn, and other outhouses, both are offered at $20 per acre, one third cash, balance in one and two years.

Also one other tract in Pasquotank county, containing 146 acres, within one mile of the town with fine buildings, mostly cleared and in cultivation. Price $25 per acre, one half cash, balance in 12 months.

A valuable site for a hotel at Nag's Head, 40 miles from Elizabeth City, and 50 miles from Edenton. This is situated immediately on the Ocean, and is a famous Summer resort for invalids, and those seeking health, comfort, and amusements during the summer months. It is in direct communication by steamboats and railroad with all parts of North Carolina, Virginia, and the North; and is equal in natural advantages to Newport, or Cape May. Visitors flock to this famous summer resort by hundreds and thousands, and a large amount of money can be made by a hotel. A charter has been obtained from the Legislature of N. C., for a joint stock company to build the hotel. There is now an old hotel on the spot, which could be cheaply repaired and bought for $3,000. This hotel, though imperfectly kept, cleared the proprietor last season, over $3,000. For a man or a company, having some capital, this is one of the finest chances to make money at hotel keeping to be found anywhere. The early attention of the public is invited to this property.

A fine steam saw and grist mill at Hertford, the county seat of Perquimans County, N. C., 18 miles from Elizabeth City. This mill has a fifty horse power engine, now in good running, two pairs of best French burr stones, and two upright saws. The house has a brick basement, and the building is large and in good order. There is one and a half acres of land belonging to this property, and a good two story dwelling, and other out-houses. The section of country around abounds in the finest yellow pine, cypress, ash, poplar, and other valuable timber. This property, originally cost $15,000, and is now offered at forced sale for the low price of $3,500, $7,00, cash, and the balance in six equal instalments, six months apart each with interest.

A fine farm and fishery in same county. The farm contains 400 acres of the finest land, lies immediately on Albemarle Sound where the water is 12 miles wide, and 18 to 20 feet deep, has got buildings, and fine neighborhood. The fishery is on the farm and goes with it. It has a new seine 2,500 yards long, and all the necessary boats, buildings, &c., (which cost over $15,000 two years ago.) The fishery alone, of a good season, will make from 5 to $10,000 profit to the owner. This property is offered at forced sale for the low price of $20,000, $7,000 cash, balance on easy times.

A store at South Mills, in Camden county, 20 miles from E. City, and 20 miles from Norfolk, lying on the canal where steamers pass daily. A fine chance for merchandize. Store is large with dwelling above containing six rooms, is in first rate order, has office, kitchen, dairy, and other necessary outhouses. Goods to the amt. of $50,000 per annum can be sold here, and at large profits. A splended stand for a country retail store. Price $2,500—one third cash, balance in one and two years.

A valuable tract of land in Camden county, at South Mills, on the Dismal Swamp Canal, lying on the canal for two miles, containing over 900 acres of land—two-thirds cleared, and in a fine state of cultivation, with good buildings, &c.; balance in valuable timber. Price $12,000, one-third cash, balance in one and two years, interest from January, 1871. This is a valuable farm for corn, wheat, and vegetables, and being midway between Elizabeth City and Norfolk, and located where steamers pass by the door daily, is a desirable and cheap property.

A fine farm of 600 acres within six miles of E. City, one mile from navigable water, and the best cotton farm in the State. It is also well adapted to raising corn and wheat. This farm has a splended two-story dwelling upon it, large barn, 40 by 60 feet, a large number of outhouses, by splended trees and shrubbery, is in a strong Union neighborhood, and altogether the most desirable place in the county. A little over one-half of this land is cleared, and the balance is covered with fine timber, yellow pine, poplar, ash and other timber. Price $30 per acre—one-third cash, balance in one and two years with interest. Title reserved.

Sixteen houses and lots in Elizabeth City, with good dwellings, out-houses, &c. Prices and terms reasonable.

A valuable farm in Perquimans county, N. C. near navigable water. Has a fine dwelling-house with ten rooms, in splended order, with splended barns and stables—all in first rate order. The farm is very productive in corn, oats, wheat, cotton and clover. It is one of the finest farms in the State and is now in good cultivation, contains 585 acres of land, about three-fourths cleared and under cultivation. Price $10,000, one-third cash January 1, next, balance in two equal annual instalments with interest at the rate of six per cent.

A farm of 370 acres 8 miles from town by water, and 12 miles by land, is offered for sale for $10,000 in easy payments. This tract of land lies immediately on the River which is 1 miles wide and washes the farm its whole length on one side, and a branch of the River one mile wide, binds it on one end. The land is well adapted to raising corn, wheat, cotton, oats, peas, &c., lies high and dry, and is susceptible of the highest improvement. Fronting and looking over, as it does, two large sheets of navigable water, where steamers and sailing vessels are constantly passing, carrying freight and passengers to all parts of the country, its location and surroundings, are of the most fascinating and desirable character. There is a fishery on it ready for working a seine 2,500 yards long, and which commands a portion of both streams of water, and can be made immensely profitable. The price charged is low, and the purchase a very desirable one. The buildings consist of a good two-story dwelling and out-houses.

A tract of valuable land, containing 356 acres, with fine two story dwelling containing 9 rooms and cook-room. Servant's house with 3 rooms, large barns and stables, all necessary and convenient out-houses, 3 tenant-houses near town, and immediately on the River. About 100 acres of this land is in fine wood and timber, balance in a fine state of cultivation. It has 8,000 grape vines one year old, 3,500 peach, apple and dwarf pear trees, five acres in strawberries which yielded an immence profit this year, ten acres in Lawton and other rare varieties of black-berries, 15 to 20,000 young peach trees with other choice fruits too numerous to mention. This farm has a public road on one side, and the River on the other, where strangers come daily to the landings to receive the fruits and vegetables, and carry them down to Norfolk, Baltimore, Phila., or New York. The land is finely adapted to raising corn, wheat, cotton, oats, and all other field crops.

The owner of this farm offers to sell in tracts, to suit purchasers, say in 50 to 100 acre tracts, and at prices ranging from 35 to $80 per acre, according to location, buildings, &c.

There is also on this farm a fine fishery, where a seine 1,000 yards long, and 20 feet deep is hauled every Spring. Herring, Shad, Rockfish, Sturgeon and other valuable fish, are caught by thousands at every draw of the seine. And the profits are frequently large. This fishery of itself is worth nearly as much as is charged for the whole property. The terms will be liberal. This is probably the finest opportunity offered any where for a profitable investment.

☞ Fishery has an office, and two houses for hands besides fish house. Then some 500 to 1,000 loads of best fish manure on hand, besides over 5,000 loads of compost made ready for use. This goes with the farm.

A desirable house and lot in the town of Elizabeth City on the corner of two principal streets, the principal one, and situated in the best business locality in the town. The lot contains about two acres of land, and the buildings consist of a fair dwelling three stories high, containing eight rooms, all in good order, another two story building with four rooms and pantries, dairy, smokehouses, stables, &c. The dwelling has a good cellar under it. There is room on the front lot to erect two good stores, and they would occupy the best stand in the town for merchandize.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE LAND AND LUMBER COMPANY having a large amount of Real Estate of their own to dispose of, and their business having increased to such an extent, they think it prudent to decline acting further as Commission Agents for the sale of lands belonging to others. They will however be glad at all times to furnish every facility to parties coming to Elizabeth City with a desire to look at the country and make purchases if they find it to their interest to do so.

The following list of property, owned by the Company, is offered for sale on the most reasonable terms. Their object now is to acquire a larger monied capital for the purpose of further developing their unimproved lands and carrying out their original design of increasing the Commerce and General Trade of Elizabeth City.

As there are others in the Commission Business, parties are referred to their advertisement for further information.

ELIZABETH CITY.

The following desirable list of Properties in Elizabeth City are offered at very reduced prices for cash or on time payments at rates which make any of them excellent investments for capitalists. We feel confident that this City is destined to become a large place and property will advance rapidly. Emigration is now tending Southernward and the feeling is in universal favor toward Elizabeth City.

A large two-story dwelling known as the Parsonage, with fine double Piazza, front and back, large out kitchen, stables, carriage house, with 17 acres of ground well enclosed. This ground is all within the corporation of the City, and is well situated to lay out in building lots and make out of it ten fold the price asked for it.

A two-story dwelling containing ten rooms, 10,000 gallon cistern and all necessary out-houses, with large lot. Situated on Main Street. A Vacant Lot no better located and not so large as this was sold recently for $1600 cash.

A large brick store house and wharf situate on Water street; in E. City, comprising three lots with 400 feet of water front permanently wharfed for the accommodation of large vessels. There is erected on these lots a large two-story brick building, 50 by 80 feet, well fitted up for a wholesale or retail trade at present occupied by the "Yankee Store."

A large wood store on west side of Water street 36 by 60, two stories high, being one of the best stands on Water street for merchandizing.

A House and Lot on Riverside Avenue. House 20ft front by 50 ft deep. Containing eight rooms with Passage and Cellar, all well finished, modern style, and having all necessary out buildings. The lot contains a front of 400 ft, and would be a good location for a large shop or foundry as one whole size, fronts on the water.

Also a large number of Wharf Lots, Mill Lots and Vacant Lots at very low prices, some of which are enumerated below. The Wharf Lots are 200ft deep and will be sold to any size desired along the River. Among them are some most eligible situations for Store Houses, Mills and Manufactories of any kind as there is a fine harbor immediately in front of them, having 30ft of water, sufficient for vessels of any capacity. Along Pennsylvania Avenue are offered some of the finest and choicest lots, for dwellings in town at prices varying according to location. This will be the finest street in town, is 80 feet wide, size of Lot 100ft front by 200ft deep. There are now a number of first class residences being erected on this street. Immediately in the vicinity of these Lots the Company have erected a large Planing Mill, Sash, Blind and Door Factory at a cost of near $20,000 and also their Saw Mill at a cost of near $15,000. That now is the proper time to invest in those Lots there can be no doubt, as they will double in value in a very short time. Lots not near so good as these, are now selling in other parts of the City at more than double the price asked for these.

VACANT LOTS.

Lots Nos. 150, 155, 158, 161, 163, 165, 167, 170. 172. 175, 178, 180, 182. 185, 187. 190 193, 195, 198 and 200, situate on Pennsylvania avenue, in the new extension of Elizabeth City, all choice lots, intended for the better class of residences. They also offer a tract of three thousand acres in Lots to suit purchasers, near the Pasquotank River, ten miles from Elizabeth City and three miles from South Mills. This land is heavily set with wood and also has upon it a vast amount of saw timber, and has a most excellent soil. This is a fine location for a small Colony. There is now a Public Road running directly through it. This tract is offered at the low price of eight dollars per acre if sold to one party, or at only a fraction more if divided into small lots.

The Company will also sell their farm of 250 acres two miles from Elizabeth City. 125 acres cleared and under good cultivation, well fenced, having upon it two dwelling houses, one new and the necessary out buildings wanted on a farm, and will be sold on very reasonable terms.

Also another farm one mile from Elizabeth City containing one hundred acres, between thirty and forty acres cleared and under cultivation, the balance is now being cut off and is nearly ready to be cleared up and cultiuated. This property is very desirable being so near the City though for reasons first given will be sold at a very low price.

We have a finely timbered tract of land situated on the Albemarle Sound twenty miles from Elizabeth City, containing 124 acres. Good timber land bordering on the water is valuable both for wood as well as saw timber as water trausportation affords a good margin for wood, say one dollar per cord. This will also make good farm land—will be sold for one thousand dollars.

Also one other tract of land containing 154 acres situated immediately on the Pasquotank River ten miles from Elizabeth City, valuable for wood, and is excellent farmiug lands, would be sold for six dollars per acre.

GATES COUNTY.

The Land & Lumber Company have a tract of 350 acres of timbered land one half mile from Chowan River and three miles from Winton the county seat of Hertford county. This body of land is well timbered and will be sold at the low price of three dollars per acre.

MILLIONS Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects. They are not a vile Fancy Drink, made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true medicine, made from the native roots and herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Billous, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid Liver and Bowels, which render them of unequaled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the System in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. Says a distinguished physiologist, there is scarcely an individual upon the face of the earth whose body is exempt from the presence of worms. It is not upon the healthy elements of the body that worms exist, but upon the diseased humors and slimy deposits that breed these living monsters of disease. No system of Medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics, will free the system from worms like these Bitters.

Sold by all Druggists and Dealers.
